NOTES

1. Sufficient details must be given in order to accurately identify which registered charge is being varied. These should include its date, description, amount secured, property secured and chargee's name.
2. The further particulars must not of themselves create a new charge. If this is the case, then the appropriate form prescribed under Section 79 or 81, together with the charge document or a certified copy of it, as the case may be, must be forwarded to the Department for Enterprise within the prescribed filing period.
3. There is no prescribed filing period under Section 85A for the registration of further particulars.
4. The Department for Enterprise will NOT issue a certificate of the registration of these further particulars.
