OUR ISLAND: A SPECIAL PLACE TO LIVE AND WORK

PROGRAMME FOR GOVERNMENT
2016-2021

GD No: 2017/0002

INTRODUCTION

The Council of Ministers is pleased to bring its Programme for Government to Tynwald.

We have used the guiding principles agreed by Tynwald in November to inform the further development of the document.

It states our strategic objectives for the next five years and identifies our initial priorities. We have begun to set out policy statements in key areas and the Treasury has begun the process of aligning the budget to reflect our priorities.

The Council of Ministers has been clear that this Programme should not be fixed, but instead be a living document that evolves over time. It should respond to emerging threats and challenges and be flexible enough to allow us to adapt quickly to opportunities as they arise. The ability to adjust and respond has long been one of our strengths and we need to maintain this attitude now more than ever.

We should be rightly proud of the way our Island has evolved over time. Our economy has continued to grow and diversify where others have stalled. We have a superb quality of life and excellent public services. But we also need to be realistic about what we can afford. We should recognise that in some cases we cannot continue to provide the same level of service as before and still expect our public services to be sustainable.

We need an honest debate about what our priority services should be in the future and how we will pay for them.

To do this we must ensure we continue to support economic growth. We have been clear in this Programme that the Council of Ministers sees Government's role as creating the environment in which business – established and new – can flourish. This includes ensuring access to skilled workers, financial support and pragmatic regulation and legislation.

We believe our Programme for Government sets out an ambitious but achievable vision of a nation that is inclusive, tolerant and sustainable. It builds on solid foundations to support and encourage further growth in our economy, allowing everyone the opportunity to flourish and prosper.

ABOUT THIS DOCUMENT

This document sets out the Council of Ministers' Programme for Government.

The programme consists of several different components.

There are three Strategic Objectives. These are the overarching aims of the Council of Ministers in the long term:

An Inclusive and Caring Society

An Island of Enterprise and Opportunity

Financially Responsible Government

There are twenty outcomes in total and they have been grouped into five main themes:

Enterprise and Opportunity Island

Responsible Island

Sustainable Island

Inclusive and Caring Island

Healthy and Safe Island

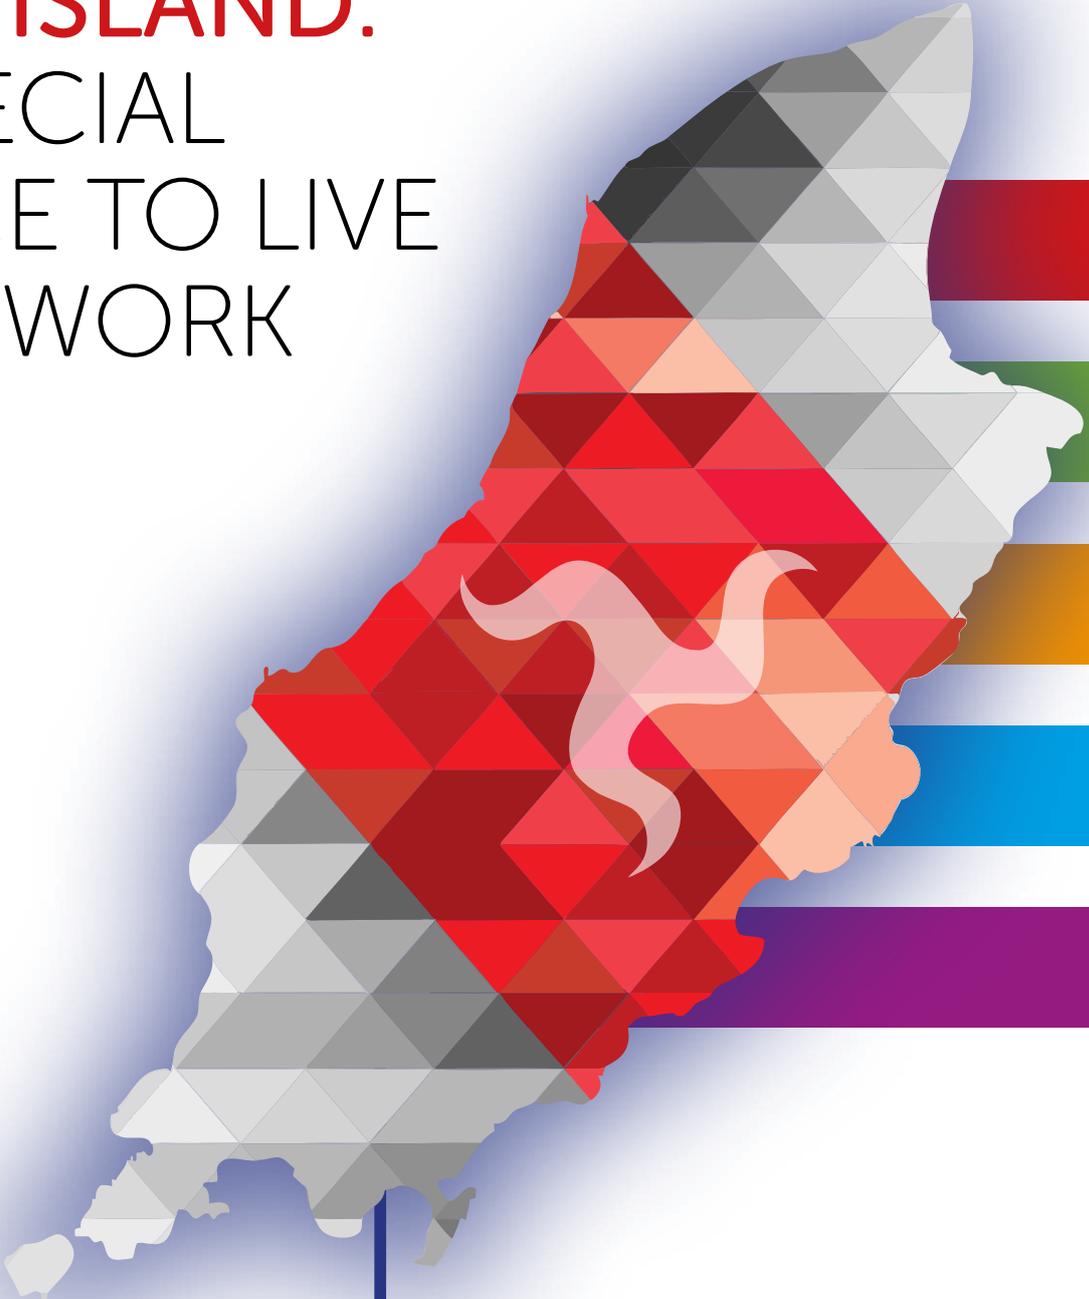

Each outcome is supported by a number of policy statements. These broad statements are intended to represent the Council of Ministers' commitments in relation to each outcome.

A number of initial actions have also been agreed by Council of Ministers which help take Government closer to achieving its overall objectives. These are detailed at the end of the document against the relevant theme. Departments, Boards and Offices will develop further actions and plans over the coming months to support the outcomes identified in this programme.

Measuring performance

All Departments, Boards and Offices will be expected to produce a service delivery plan which sets out how they plan to achieve the outcomes identified in this programme. The Cabinet Office will work with Departments to identify performance indicators against the outcomes. These will be published quarterly. The Council of Ministers will bring the full national indicator set to Tynwald in April.

CONCLUSION

As a Council of Ministers, this Programme for Government is the first step on our journey and should be seen as a living document which will evolve over time.

We will support this plan with an open and transparent set of performance measures which will be published quarterly. We will also ensure Tynwald receives an annual update document and the opportunity to debate the progress and direction of the Government at that time.

In developing this programme we have tried to be inclusive. We have worked hard to make sure we have heard and acted upon the many different views of Tynwald Members.

The rapid development of this programme so soon after the General Election means that the public's aspirations and needs have been heard too, through recently elected Members.

We have also listened to the views of the business community and hope they recognise their input to this document.

While not everyone will be able to support all parts of the programme, we hope that this programme represents a broad consensus; our Island already is a special place to live and work, but we know it can be even better. We can only achieve this by working together.
