

Provision of Online Consultations Software Solution GTS-1098

13th May 2024

Government Technology Services, a Division of the Cabinet Office, is seeking an Online Consultations software solution which would enable the Isle of Man Government to engage with stakeholders, residents and businesses to inform decisions about policy, legislation and Government services.

Directly engaging with people who are affected by a policy or proposal to ensure that their views are represented is important. Carrying out consultations allows Government to provide information and collect responses, view and opinions from individuals and groups who are interested in the topic and who have experience of it or influence over it.

More information about Isle of Man Government consultations can be found in the Public Engagement and Consultation Principles document at schedule 1 of the tender documents.
