Pensions factsheet

How the Unified Scheme will affect you

Yn raad er oaie The way forward

NHS Pension Scheme 2008 – officers

This factsheet explains how the Unified Scheme will work for officer members of the NHS Pension Scheme 2008 (the NHS 2008 Officers Scheme). You are generally an ‘officer’ member if you are employed on a direct contract.

It has been designed to help you understand the benefits offered under the new scheme and to help you make an important decision about which section you want to join – the Standard section or your Protected section. If you are a practitioner, please ensure you read the factsheet How the Unified Scheme will affect you – Practitioners.

The key features of the Unified Scheme include the following:

- » A good level of pension at a reasonable cost for members who join the Standard section.
- » An option to pay extra contributions to earn a higher rate of pension in your Protected section.
- » Support towards the cost of protection for those who are within seven years of retirement or are already over their current scheme’s Normal Pension Age.

Inside this factsheet

- » Understand the difference between the Standard section and your Protected section.
- » See how the benefits that you have earned so far will be protected.
- » Find out how much you will pay in the Unified Scheme.
- » Learn how the Unified Scheme compares with your current pension scheme.

Remember

Please submit your decision form before 28 February 2012.

What do I need to do?

You need to decide which section of the Unified Scheme you want to join when it is introduced on 1 April 2012.

To make your choice, you need to complete one of the decision forms sent to you in early 2012. If you need a new form, please contact us at unifiedenquiries@gov.im

Please submit your form by 28 February 2012.

What does it mean?

Cash lump sum

When you retire you can choose to take a one-off cash lump sum on top of a regular pension income. To do this, you generally give up some of your pension.

What does this mean for me?

To understand your Standard and Protected section benefits under the Unified Scheme:

- » Read the pension comparison illustration posted to you in early 2012.
- » Use the online Unified Scheme Modeller on the website.

Understanding the Unified Scheme

As a member of the Unified Scheme, when you retire you will receive a pension (this is a regular retirement income) and an optional one-off cash lump sum.

The Unified Scheme gives you the flexibility to create a pension to suit your needs and circumstances and there are two different sections you could join:

- » The Standard section – Designed to offer a good level of pension at a reasonable cost.
or
- » Your Protected section – Designed to reflect the pension that you are entitled to in your current scheme.

You need to decide which section of the Unified Scheme you want to join. The value of your benefits built up before 1 April 2012 is protected automatically regardless of which section you join. However, how much pension you get for future service in the Unified Scheme is up to you.

When you retire, your annual pension will be calculated as follows, regardless of which section you join:

Unified Scheme growth rate	X	Your Final Pensionable Pay	X	Your Pensionable Service	=	Annual pension
----------------------------	---	----------------------------	---	--------------------------	---	----------------

Standard section

The Standard section of the Unified Scheme will provide you with a pension based on a percentage of your Final Pensionable Pay for each year of service you have. The percentage you receive (known as your accrual rate or growth rate) will depend on the age at which you retire and these are shown in the table on page 7. The later you retire, the greater your pension will be.

Example

The example below shows how this would work for Anna – a member who joined the Standard section. Anna retired at age 65 with 35 years' Pensionable Service and Final Pensionable Pay of £30,000. The Standard section growth rate at this age is 1.5%.

$$1.5\% \quad X \quad £30,000 \quad X \quad 35 \quad = \quad £15,750 \text{ annual pension}$$

Protected section

Your Protected section is designed to provide you with the same pension that your current scheme provides at its Normal Pension Age. So if you've been planning for a certain level of pension at a certain age, this section will help you keep these plans in place.

Your Protected section will cost you more, because these benefits are worth more than the Standard section. If you choose your Protected section the percentage rates by which your pension will grow are shown in the table on page 7.

Example

The example below shows how this would work for Anna if she joined her Protected section. Anna retired at age 65 with 35 years' Pensionable Service and Final Pensionable Pay of £30,000. Her Protected section growth rate at this age is 1.67%.

$$1.67\% \quad \times \quad \pounds 30,000 \quad \times \quad 35 \quad = \quad \pounds 17,535 \text{ annual pension}$$

What am I really protecting in my Protected section?

To replicate your current scheme entitlements, your Protected section has been designed so that the growth rate used if you retire on your 65th birthday is broadly equivalent to the rate you would have received from the NHS 2008 Officers Scheme at age 65.

The growth rate in your current scheme has been converted to an equivalent rate under the Unified Scheme of 1.67%.

In your Protected section, you're only protecting the growth rate of your current scheme's pension that you would have received at your current scheme's Normal Pension Age of 65. All other features of the scheme will change and be the same in both the Standard and Protected sections (e.g. the way in which Final Pensionable Pay is calculated and your death benefits).

If you retire earlier or later than age 65, the growth rates will be different, as shown in the table on page 7. This could be different to what the NHS 2008 Officers Scheme could provide.

What does it mean?

Pensionable Service

The total number of years and days membership which count towards your scheme benefits.

Final Pensionable Pay

The pay used to work out your benefits. In a defined benefit pension scheme your benefits are calculated when you retire using your salary near retirement. This will be the annual average of the best three consecutive years' pay in the last 13 years, revalued by the increase in inflation.

What is a conversion factor?

This is really just a value (e.g. a number) given for your benefits.

You could look at it a bit like an exchange rate you would get when you convert your money to go abroad on holiday.

We have set an exchange rate that ensures your benefits are transferred into the Unified Scheme fairly and you do not miss out.

Your benefits will be converted based on the service you have built up before 1 April 2012.

What happens to the benefits I have built up so far?

When the Unified Scheme is introduced, we will be transferring the benefits you have built up in your current scheme into the Unified Scheme. To do this, we will be converting these benefits to an equivalent value in the Unified Scheme.

The value of the benefits you build up before 1 April 2012 is protected automatically and the value you receive for these benefits will be the same regardless of whether you choose the Standard or Protected section.

How your past service will be converted

Your benefits will be converted based on the service you have built up before 1 April 2012. This is how many years and days of Pensionable Service you have built up in your current scheme before this date.

A conversion factor (i.e. an exchange rate) is used to convert your current benefits. For officers, this conversion factor essentially gives you a certain number of years and days in the Unified Scheme for every year and day of service you had built up in your current scheme.

The conversion factor used for your past service will be different depending on which section of the Unified Scheme you join and this is shown in the table below. These factors apply to those who are below age 65 when the Unified Scheme is introduced. The rates will vary according to age for those who are above age 65 and you can contact us if you would like details on these.

Conversion terms

	Standard section	Protected section
Your pension	1.12	1
Survivor's pension	1	1

Using the table above, you can see that you will get 1.12 years or days' membership in the Standard section for every year or day that you have in the NHS 2008 Officers Scheme.

The Protected section conversion factor shown above is lower than the Standard section factor because the percentage growth rates used to calculate Protected section benefits are higher. For example, the growth rate used at age 65 in the Protected section is 1.67% and in the Standard section it is 1.50%.

Your pension in the Unified Scheme, before you take any lump sum, will be subject to a maximum overall limit of 75% of Final Pensionable Pay.

Your Protected section costs more because its benefits are higher.

Support for lower income earners

If you earn below £25,000 (full time equivalent) a year and join the Unified Scheme, you will be given a rebate if the 5% contribution rate for the Standard section is higher than your current contribution rate.

Visit www.iomunifiedscheme.im for details.

How much will I have to pay in the Unified Scheme?

The contribution rate is 5% of your Pensionable Pay if you choose to join the Standard section. If you choose your Protected section you will pay 6.6%. Your Protected section costs more because its benefits are higher.

It is recognised that this will mean a change for many members so there will be a transitional period for anyone currently paying more or less than these rates. This means that you won't face a change in contributions of more than 1% of your Pensionable Pay in any year.

The tables below show how your contribution rate will change over time in either the Standard or Protected sections. To find out what rate you currently pay, read your current scheme member guide or contact your employer's payroll office.

	NHS 2008 Officers Scheme	Standard section
		2012	2013	2014	2015
Contribution rate % of Pensionable Pay	5.0	5.0	5.0	5.0	5.0
	6.5	5.5	5.0	5.0	5.0
	7.5	6.5	5.5	5.0	5.0
	8.5	7.5	6.5	5.5	5.0

	NHS 2008 Officers Scheme	Protected section - officers
		2012	2013
Contribution rate % of Pensionable Pay	5.0	6.0	6.6
	6.5	6.6	6.6
	7.5	6.6	6.6
	8.5	7.5	6.6

Example

The example below shows how this would work for Anna, when Anna's Pensionable Pay was £30,000 each year. As you can see, your Protected section will cost more, but remember it will also deliver you higher benefits.

	Contribution rate	X	Pensionable Pay	=	Total cost each year
Standard section	5%	X	£30,000	=	£1,500 each year (£125 each month)
Protected section	6.6%	X	£30,000	=	£1,980 each year (£165 each month)

Under the Unified Scheme, transfers to and from other Isle of Man or UK pension schemes will still be allowed.

Support towards the cost of protection for those near retirement

If you are aged 58 or over when the Unified Scheme is introduced, you will be able to join your Protected section without paying more than:

- » the Standard section rate of contribution; or
- » your current rate of contribution (if this is higher).

If you are paying a higher rate of contribution than your Protected section rate, your contribution rate will reduce by up to 1% each year until it reaches your Protected section rate.

What happens to transfers in and out of the UK?

Under the Unified Scheme, transfers to and from other Isle of Man or UK pension schemes will still be allowed. They will be on a cash equivalent basis which means that the scheme you are transferring from provides a transfer value that reflects the value of the benefits you have accrued up to that point. This transfer value will be used to secure your benefits of equivalent value in the Unified Scheme.

To provide greater flexibility and choice, the current 12 month limit by which you must decide whether to transfer your benefits to your current scheme from your previous pension scheme will be removed. However, the scheme that your benefits are being transferred to or from may have time limits.

You should seek independent financial advice if you are thinking about transferring your benefits – see page 8.

Do you need financial advice?

Please note that we can't give you financial advice about the Unified Scheme and how it may affect you and your retirement plans.

If you need financial advice you can speak to an independent and authorised financial adviser and a list of advisers is provided on the website. We have briefed a number of financial advisers on the Unified Scheme and they have been provided with detailed information to help you understand your options. They may charge you for this advice, so we have negotiated a fixed fee for the first hour of £80. If you require more than one hour of advice, you will need to agree a fee with the adviser.

You should always check that any independent financial adviser you consult is authorised and/or licensed to give the advice you are seeking. Most financial advisers will charge you for their advice.
