Our Island: A Special Place to Live and Work
The 2016 5-9 cohort is the only group to show net inward migration since 2011, with an increase in the cohort population of 99 in the 2011 0-4 year olds.
Emigration of Young adults

The 2016 20-24 cohort shows that whilst there has been inward migration of 331, there has been outward migration of 1,017 individuals in the past 5 years.

However the Island has more 20-21 year olds in full time education, at 34%, compared with the UK of 26%.

There has been a significant downward trend of under 29s leaving home and living on their own. In 1996, 39% of 15-29 years olds lived away from home, compared with 29.9% in 2016.
There has been limited net outward migration in the 30-49 cohort, so whilst the Island has attracted 2,105 individuals, 2,312 have left in the past 5 years.
Early exit from the work force

There is a significant proportion of individuals exiting the work force early within the 50 – 64 cohort:

• 25% of men aged 60-64 have retired from paid work

• 11% of women and 8.4% of men aged 55-59 have retired from paid work

• 6.3% of 50 – 64 year olds are unable to work due to long term sickness or disability
