LETTER OF NO OPERATIONAL OBJECTION – EASA LIGHT AIRCRAFT PILOT LICENCE (LAPL)

For the purpose of this document the “Isle of Man Civil Aviation Administration” is a reference to a part of the Department for Enterprise of the Isle of Man Government.

As required by the Air Navigation (Isle of Man) Order 2015¹, a person must not act as a member of the flight crew in an aircraft registered in a country other than the Isle of Man unless, in the case of an aircraft on a private flight, that person is the holder of an appropriate licence granted or rendered valid under the law of the country in which the aircraft is registered, and the Isle of Man Civil Aviation Administration does not give a direction to the contrary.

The Isle of Man Civil Aviation Administration (IOM CAA) considers the EASA LAPL to be an appropriate licence and has No Operational Objection to flights being conducted to, from and within the Isle of Man² by flight crew operating in accordance with the privileges and any other conditions of the license.
