Part 4 - Inspection Outcomes, Evidence and Requirements

Regulation of Care Act 2013, Part 2 (37) and Care Services Regulations Part 3 (9) Standard 2- Organisation

2.1 - The maximum number of children between 0 years and 7 years the childminder may look after, when working alone, is six; this is dependent upon the required space standards being met. In addition a childminder must have regard to the numbers allowed within the following age bands:

- no more than 2 children under the age of 1 year;
- no more than 3 children, in total, under the age of 5 years.

The numbers within the age bands above can be exceeded to take account of exceptional circumstances; such as to provide for siblings, or other continuity of care issues that are considered to be in the best interests of the child. Each circumstance will be considered on its individual merit and the ability of the childminder to provide evidence to support their request. The maximum number of six children cannot be exceeded at any time.

NB: These ratios may be decreased as well as increased if a childminder's circumstances warrant such a change.

Childminders cannot exceed six children aged 0-16 on the premises at any one time. This includes minded children, childminder's own children and any other children who may visit the home.

Regulation of Care Act 2013 Part 2 (37) and Care Services Regulations Part 3 (9) Standard 3 – Care, Learning and Play

3.2 - The childminder must select resources and provide activities, play opportunities and first-hand experiences which allow children to build on their natural curiosity as learners, develop their language and mathematical thinking, use their imagination and develop social relationships.

Our Decision:

Compliant

Reasons for our decision:

The childminder was providing activities and play opportunities that encourage the children to build on their natural curiosity, develop language and physical skills, promote their aesthetic awareness, use their imagination, promote early mathematical understanding, and develop social skills.

There was one child present during the inspection. The childminder sat with the child during the inspection reassuring her that she was alright, as the child was a bit shy in the presence of the inspector.

The childminder encouraged the child to play with the 'picture cards' looking at the pictures and recognising what they were. The child was quiet at first but soon began to interact and play with the cards. Some of the cards also gave different textures for example, rough and smooth.

The childminder stated that she occasionally took the children to 'mums and tots' group, dependent upon the weather. If the weather was good she would prefer to take children to outdoor venues and activities.

The inspector left contact details with the childminder for parents of minded children so that they could provide feedback directly to the inspector if they wanted to.

Some of the comments received were as follows:

Our daughter **** settled in with Kate straight away which is testament to how Kate is with her and looks after her like she is her own daughter. After a few weeks we went into lockdown and I was worried that after only three weeks with Kate then a six week break that **** would be strange on her return– I should not have worried – first day back **** threw her arms out to Kate and all was well.

Kate purposely does not take the kids to groups as she prefers to given them individual attention – I get kept updated every day with photographs of *** in the park, wildlife park etc and she is always smiling and happy – Kate is absolutely wonderful and nothing is too much trouble for her – *** loves going there to the point where I don't get a kiss goodbye now she wants to go straight in!!

We have a diary that's updated every night that comes home with *** so we know what she has been doing , eaten etc – Kate puts so much thought and effort into their day and is just wonderful.

The inspector would like to thank the childminder and service users for their co-operation with this inspection.

If you would like to discuss any of the issues mentioned in this report or have identified any inaccuracies, please do not hesitate to contact the Registration and Inspection Unit.
