Part 4 - Inspection Outcomes, Evidence and Requirements

Regulation of Care Act 2013, Part 2 (37) and Care Services Regulations Part 3 (9) Standard 2- Organisation

2.1 - The maximum number of children between 0 years and 7 years the childminder may look after, when working alone, is six; this is dependent upon the required space standards being met. In addition a childminder must have regard to the numbers allowed within the following age bands:

- no more than 2 children under the age of 1 year;
- no more than 3 children, in total, under the age of 5 years.

The numbers within the age bands above can be exceeded to take account of exceptional circumstances; such as to provide for siblings, or other continuity of care issues that are considered to be in the best interests of the child. Each circumstance will be considered on its individual merit and the ability of the childminder to provide evidence to support their request. The maximum number of six children cannot be exceeded at any time.

NB: These ratios may be decreased as well as increased if a childminder's circumstances warrant such a change.

Childminders cannot exceed six children aged 0-16 on the premises at any one time. This includes minded children, childminder's own children and any other children who may visit the home.

Our Decision:

Compliant

Reasons for our decision:

Regulation of Care Act 2013 Part 2 (37) and Care Services Regulations Part 3 (9) Standard 3 – Care, Learning and Play

3.2 - The childminder must select resources and provide activities, play opportunities and first-hand experiences which allow children to build on their natural curiosity as learners, develop their language and mathematical thinking, use their imagination and develop social relationships.

Our Decision:

Compliant

Reasons for our decision:

There was a variety of play resources available for the children that, with support from the childminder are designed to promote all areas of learning and development.

Through discussion the inspector was informed of the outings and activities being carried out on a regular basis. A number of parents mentioned the outings undertaken in their feedback and how they liked that the children were taken to different places and that the trips were 'priceless'.

Our Decision:

Reasons for our decision:

Upon arrival, the main front door was found to be open but the inner door was closed. The childminder had implemented a system that ensured the children could not leave the self-contained areas used for minding purposes without an adult.

Standard 10 – Behaviour

10.1 - The childminder and staff must help children to learn about what is right and wrong.

Our Decision:

Compliant

Reasons for our decision:

At the time of the premises inspection, both children were sat quietly watching a television programme and this meant the inspector was unable to observe the childminder encouraging the children's awareness and understanding of right and wrong.

The childminder's Behaviour Management policy outlined procedures to be followed for managing behaviour that included encouragement and praise, explaining why actions were not appropriate, and being consistent in her approach. Implementing the procedures and strategies included in the policy would help develop the children's understanding of what is right and wrong.

Standard 5.11

Evidence submitted showed that a portable electrical test was required to be undertaken in March 2021. Unfortunately the island went into lockdown and the restrictions meant that the booked test could not be undertaken. The childminder has re-scheduled the test and is due to be carried out in two weeks' time. Once complete, evidence must be submitted to the Registration and Inspection Team in order to verify PAT has been done.

A feedback poster was given to the childminder to share with the parents using her service to enable them to provide feedback if they wished. Parents submitted feedback and all comments made were positive. Parents stated how their children have thrived in the childminder's care and that their children enjoyed attending.
