Foreword

1. The document content is compiled from the following legislative instruments as amended and as applied to the Isle of Man:

   (a) Aviation Security Act 1982 (of Parliament)

   (b) Aviation and Maritime Security Act 1990 (of Parliament)

   (c) Anti-Terrorism, Crime and Security Act 2001 (of Parliament)

   (d) UK Statutory Instrument 2010 No 902 – The Aviation Security Regulations

   (e) UK Statutory Instrument 2015 No 930 – The Aviation Security Act 1982 (Civil Penalties) Regulations

2. This document will be updated by the Isle of Man Civil Aviation Administration to take into account further amendments following Tynwald approval.

Disclaimer

1. This document has been prepared to provide stakeholders with an updated and easy to read reference copy of the Aviation Security Legislation, as amended and applied to the Isle of Man. However, this is not an official copy of the legislation and in some cases the format may have been adjusted in order to make it easier to read and for reference purposes.

2. You must refer to the original source material for an exact copy of the legislation. Courts of Law will refer only to the source regulatory material.
1. Introduction

1.1 By delegation from the Minister for Enterprise, the Isle of Man Civil Aviation Administration is responsible for overseeing compliance with the Island’s aviation security requirements including those undertaken by the Isle of Man Airport.

1.2 Appropriate authority and necessary powers for monitoring and enforcing the relevant regulations are provided to the Isle of Man Civil Aviation Administration by the legislation set out in this document and in the EU Regulations as set out below.

2. UK Aviation Security Legislation

2.1 The Isle of Man has applied a number of UK aviation security instruments directly to the Island, with appropriate modifications, to ensure that Isle of Man air passengers are treated as domestic arrivals when flying into airports.

- Aviation Security Act 1982 covers offense against the safety of aircraft; protection of aircraft, aerodromes and air navigation installations against acts of violence.

- Aviation and Maritime Security Act 1990 creates an offence of endangering safety at an aerodrome serving international civil aviation.

- Anti-Terrorism, Crime and Security Act 2001 strengthens legislation to ensure that the Government has the necessary powers to counter the increased threat to the security of the aviation industry.

- The Aviation Security Regulations changes the name of restricted zone to security restricted areas and includes Commission inspections as provided for in Regulation (EC) No 300/2008 of the European Parliament on common rules in the field of civil aviation security.

- The Aviation Security Act 1982 (Civil Penalties) Regulations set out the civil penalty regime applicable to information requests or aviation security directions for civil flights which are inbound to the Isle of Man.

3. EU Aviation Security Regulations

3.1 The Isle of Man has applied a number of EU security regulations directly to the Island, with appropriate modifications, which ensures the continuation of the EU’s recognition of the Isle of Man as applying security standards equivalent to the EU common basic standards.

3.2 This means that flights from the IOM to a EU state are treated as if they were from an EU member state and therefore passengers and aircraft are not exposed to the additional security screening that would be required by a flight arriving from outside the EU.
3.3 The following EU aviation security regulations have been applied to the Island with appropriate modifications:

- (EU) 2015/1998 of 5 November 2015 laying down detailed measures for the implementation of the common basic standards on aviation security.
Aviation Security Act 1982
(as applied to the Isle of Man)

the State declared under paragraph (b) of this subsection shall be deemed for the purposes of this section to be the State in which any aircraft so operated is registered; but in relation to such an aircraft subsection (2)(b) above shall have effect as if it referred to the territory of any one of the States named in the order.

(5) For the purposes of this section the territorial waters of any State shall be treated as part of its territory.

(2) It shall also, subject to subsection (4) below, be an offence for any person unlawfully and intentionally to place, or cause to be placed, on an aircraft in service any device or substance which is likely to destroy the aircraft, or is likely so to damage it as to render it incapable of flight or as to be likely to endanger its safety in flight; but nothing in this subsection shall be construed as limiting the circumstances in which the commission of any act -
   (a) may constitute an offence under subsection (1) above, or
   (b) may constitute attempting or conspiring to commit, or aiding, abetting, counselling or procuring, or being art and part in, the commission of such an offence.

(3) Except as provided by subsection (4) below, subsections (1) and (2) above shall apply whether any such act as is therein mentioned is committed in the Isle of Man or elsewhere, whatever the nationality of the person committing the act and whatever the State in which the aircraft is registered.

(i) relates to an inbound flight, and
(ii) requires the person not to cause or permit an aircraft to fly in or into the Isle of Man unless certain things have, or have not, been done.

(2) The Department may require the person to pay a penalty if the Department is satisfied, on a balance of probabilities, that the person has failed to comply with the direction.
