Before boarding the ship, crew and passengers should be asked if they have a new, continuous cough or a high temperature.

The Master of the Ship should notify the Port Health Authority about any suspected cases of coronavirus as soon as possible, who will then inform COVID 111.

If someone becomes unwell with a new, continuous cough or a high temperature, they should be sent home and advised to seek clinical advice using the online assessment at govt.im/covidtest to determine whether they need to call the COVID 111 helpline. They must self-isolate for 14 days from the onset of symptoms, regardless of whether the test result is positive or negative. If the test is positive, details will be passed to the Public Health Contact Tracing Service so any contacts can be followed up and advised.

Stay at home for 14 days, this includes all household members if you live with others.

Seek clinical advice
use the online assessment
go.im/covidtest

to determine whether a call needs to be made to the COVID 111 helpline.

Crew and passengers should be given clear instructions on what to do if they develop symptoms and how and to whom they should report this.

Appropriate use of personal protective equipment (PPE) and cleaning of surfaces that a person with symptoms has come into contact with are key measures to stop the spread of the virus.

Wash your hands more often and for 20 seconds:

- Use soap and water or a hand sanitiser when you:
  - Get home or into work
  - Blow your nose, sneeze or cough
  - Eat or handle food

Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue or your sleeve (not your hands) when you cough or sneeze.

Dispose of the tissue straight away.

Stay at home for 14 days, this includes all household members if you live with others.

If you have a new and continuous cough or a high temperature:

Use soap and water or a hand sanitiser when you:

- Get home or into work
- Blow your nose, sneeze or cough
- Eat or handle food

Before boarding the ship, crew and passengers should be asked if they have a new, continuous cough or a high temperature.

The Master of the Ship should notify the Port Health Authority about any suspected cases of coronavirus as soon as possible, who will then inform COVID 111.

If someone becomes unwell with a new, continuous cough or a high temperature, they should be sent home and advised to seek clinical advice using the online assessment at govt.im/covidtest to determine whether they need to call the COVID 111 helpline. They must self-isolate for 14 days from the onset of symptoms, regardless of whether the test result is positive or negative. If the test is positive, details will be passed to the Public HealthContact Tracing Service so any contacts can be followed up and advised.

Ref: COVID-19: 007P
26 March 2020