

Introduction

The Treasury has issued this guidance to assist in the implementation of, and compliance with the Myanmar (Sanctions) Regulations 2021, as those Regulations have effect in the Isle of Man.

The policy of the Isle of Man Government is to maintain the implementation of international sanctions measures in the Isle of Man in line with such measures have effect in the United Kingdom from time to time.

Legislation

The Myanmar (Sanctions) Regulations 2021 [SD 2021/496] have effect in the Isle of Man by the Myanmar (Sanctions) (Isle of Man) Order 2021 [SD 2021/529].

This document contains guidance on the prohibitions and requirements imposed by the Regulations. In addition it provides guidance on best practice from complying with the prohibitions and requirements; the enforcement of them; and circumstances where they do not apply.

Further guidance

This document should be read alongside the Financial Sanctions Guidance.

1. Prohibitions and requirements imposed by the Regulations

These Regulations impose financial, trade and immigration sanctions for the purpose of promoting the peace, stability and security of Myanmar. The Regulations also promote respect for democracy, the rule of law and good governance in Myanmar and discouraging actions, policies or activities which repress the civilian population and encourage compliance with international human rights law and respect for human rights in Myanmar.

In order to achieve their stated purposes, the Regulations impose a number of prohibitions and requirements in order to enforce these, the Regulations establish penalties and offences. These are set out in detail in the Annex.

The sanctions imposed by these Regulations apply within the territory of the Isle of Man (IOM) and in relation to the conducts of all Island persons wherever they are in the world. Island person includes

- (a) a British citizen, a British overseas territories citizen, a British National (Overseas) or a British overseas citizen who is resident in the Isle of Man;
- (b) a person who under the British Nationality Act 1981 (of Parliament)¹ is a British subject who is resident in the Isle of Man;
- (c) a British protected person within the meaning of that Act who is resident in the Isle of Man; or
- (d) a body incorporated under the law of the Isle of Man;

The maritime enforcement powers contained in Part 9 of the Regulations apply in relation to Manx ships in international or foreign waters, ships without nationality in international waters and foreign ships in international waters.

It is prohibited to intentionally participate in any activities if you know that the object or effect of them is to directly or indirectly circumvent the prohibitions imposed by these Regulations or to enable or facilitate the contravention of those prohibitions.

If you are unclear about any aspects of the Regulations, in particular about whether action you are considering taking could contravene these Regulations, you are advised to seek independent legal advice.

Prohibitions and requirements for the financial and immigration sanctions contained in these Regulations are set out below.

1.1 Designation of persons

Where the UK Secretary of State has designated a person, that designation also has effect in the Isle of Man from the same time, and any variation or revocation of the designation will also have effect in the Island. The reasons for designation include, for example, to encourage compliance with international human rights law and respect for human rights.

When these Regulations are in force a list of those persons designated under these Regulations and details of the sanctions in respect of which they have been designated, will be on GOV.UK

1.2 Financial sanctions

Asset Freeze

The Regulations impose financial sanctions through a targeted asset freeze on designated persons. This involves the freezing of funds and economic resources (non-monetary assets, such as property or vehicles) of designated persons and ensuring that funds and economic resources are not made available to or for the benefit of designated persons or entities, either directly or indirectly.

More information on asset freezes can be found in the Financial Sanctions Guidance.

1.3 Trade Sanctions

The Regulations impose trade prohibitions relating to:

- military goods and technology (as specified in Schedule 2 to the Export Control Order 2008);
- dual-use goods and technology (as specified in Annex 1 to Council Regulation 428/2009);
- goods and technology which might be used for internal repression in Myanmar (as specified in Schedule 2 to the Regulations)
- goods and technology which might be used for the monitoring and interception of telecommunications (as specified in Schedule 3 to the Regulations)
- provision of interception and monitoring services to or for the benefit of, certain persons connected with Myanmar (namely persons who work for, on behalf of, or at the Government of Myanmar);
- provision of military-related services to or for the benefit of the Tatmadaw (i.e. Myanmar Armed Forces).

There are circumstances (set out in the relevant lists of controlled items) in which certain items are not controlled, such as for example, when body armour or a helmet is accompanying a person for that person's own protection. Please check the relevant lists as applicable.

Further detail on these trade prohibitions, including key terminology used, is explained below. Please have regard to the relevant legislation which contains full definitions of terms used here.

Export of goods

The concept of "export" is set out in customs legislation, but is further detailed in the Regulations, which clarifies that "export" means export from the Isle of Man, but does not capture where goods are removed to the United Kingdom from the Isle of Man.

The export prohibition in the Regulations covers export to Myanmar as well as exports that are for use in Myanmar. This means that, even if the immediate destination is not Myanmar, the prohibition may still apply. Exporters should check the ultimate end use of goods and may apply for a licence or contact the Export Control Joint Unit (ECJU) if you know or think the items may be used in Myanmar.

For general guidance on export controls and trade sanctions, visit the Export Control Joint Unit website (the Isle of Man imposes the same export and trade controls as the UK).

The export prohibition in regulation 30 prohibits the export to Myanmar of dual-use goods for military use, the export of dual-use goods for military use in Myanmar and the export of dual-use goods to, or for use by, the Myanmar security forces. "For military use" is defined at regulation 29.

Supply and delivery of goods

Supply and delivery prohibitions in the Regulations prohibit a person from directly or indirectly supplying or delivering goods from a third country to a place in Myanmar. Regulation 23(4) specifies that for the purposes of this regulation a third country is a country that is not the UK, Isle of Man or Myanmar.

Regulation 31 prohibits a person from directly or indirectly supplying or delivering dual-use goods for military use from a third country to a place in Myanmar and supplying or delivering dual-use goods from a third country to, or for use by, the Myanmar security forces.

Making restricted goods and restricted technology available

Prohibitions in the Regulations on making restricted goods or technology available (e.g. through a sale) include directly or indirectly making them available for use in Myanmar or to a "person connected with Myanmar". Regulation 21(4) sets out when a person is to be regarded as "connected with" Myanmar (and this applies where the term is used in other trade prohibitions in this Part of the Regulations).

Regulation 32 prohibits a person from directly or indirectly making available dual-use goods for military use or dual-use technology for military use to a person connected with Myanmar or for military use in Myanmar, and also prohibits the direct or indirect making available of dual-use goods to or for use by the Myanmar security forces.

Transfer of restricted technology

Prohibitions in the Regulations on the transfer of restricted technology include transfer to a place in Myanmar or a person "connected with" Myanmar.

The transfer of restricted technology for military use to a place in Myanmar, to a person connected with Myanmar and the transfer of restricted technology to the Myanmar security forces is also prohibited.

The term 'transfer' means a transfer by any means (or combination of means), including oral communication and the transfer of goods on which the technology is recorded or from which it can be derived, other than the export of such goods.

Where restricted or dual-use technology is contained within a good, it would be classified as a restricted or dual-use good under the accompanying goods-related provisions. This includes information contained on USB memory devices, laptops, tablets and the like.

Technical assistance

The term “technical assistance” in relation to goods or technology is defined in regulation 21, which states that it means:

- technical support relating to the repair, development, production, assembly, testing, use or maintenance of the goods or technology, or
- any other technical service relating to the goods or technology

Prohibitions apply where the technical assistance relates to restricted goods or restricted technology.

The prohibitions apply to the direct or indirect provision of such technical assistance (1) to persons “connected with” Myanmar or (2) for use in Myanmar.

This means that, even if the person to whom you are providing the relevant technical assistance is not in or “connected with Myanmar”, the prohibition may still apply if the goods or technology to which the technical assistance relates are for use in Myanmar. Therefore, if you are providing technical assistance you should check whether the goods or technology may be used in Myanmar and apply for a licence or contact ECJU if so.

Regulation 34(1) also prohibits the direct or indirect provision of technical assistance relating to dual-use goods for military use or dual-use technology for military use to a person connected with Myanmar, for military use in Myanmar and provision of technical assistance relating to dual-use goods or dual-use technology to or for use by the Myanmar security forces.

Financial services and funds relating to restricted goods and restricted technology

‘Financial services’ refer to any services of a financial nature in many different forms including insurance and banking. Financial services include payment and money transmission services. The full definition of ‘financial services’ can be found in Section 61 of the Sanctions Act.

‘Funds’ means financial assets and benefits of every kind, including cash, securities and interest. The full definition of ‘funds’ can be found in Section 60 of the Sanctions Act.

Trade sanctions prohibitions on the provision of financial services and funds apply where they relate to certain specified goods or technology.

Prohibitions in the Regulations on the provision of financial services and funds prohibit the direct or indirect provision of financial services, and the direct or indirect making available of funds, to persons connected with Myanmar in pursuance of or in connection with an arrangement set out in regulation 27(1). This captures arrangements where the object or effect falls into one of the prohibitions, for example the export of restricted goods or direct or indirect supply or delivery of goods.

Regulation 35 prohibits the direct or indirect provision of financial services, and the direct or indirect making available of funds, to persons connected with Myanmar in pursuance of or in connection with an arrangement set out in regulation 35(1). This captures arrangements where the object or effect falls into one of the prohibitions concerning dual-use goods or technology for military use. Regulation 35 also prohibits the direct or indirect provision of financial services or funds to the Myanmar security forces in pursuance of or in connection with an arrangement set out at regulation 35(3).

The Regulations also prohibit the direct or indirect provision of financial services or funds in pursuance of or in connection with specific arrangements as set out in regulation 27(3) or regulation 35(4).

Brokering services: non-IOM activity related to restricted goods or restricted technology

The definition of 'brokering services' is set out in regulation 21, which states that it means any service to secure, or otherwise in relation to, an arrangement, including (but not limited to):

- the selection or introduction of persons as parties or potential parties to the arrangement
- the negotiation of the arrangement
- the facilitation of anything that enables the arrangement to be entered into, and
- the provision of any assistance that in any way promotes or facilitates the arrangement

The Regulations prohibit the direct or indirect provision of brokering services where they relate to specific arrangements. Those arrangements are set out in regulation 28 and 36.

Other service provisions

Certain other services are prohibited in the Regulations.

Provisions on interception and monitoring services are set out in Regulation 37 and relate to the provision of such services to or for the benefit of the Government of Myanmar. The Government of Myanmar is defined as including its public bodies, corporations or agencies or any person acting on its behalf or at its direction. The definition of 'interception and monitoring services' is set out in Regulation 20.

The Regulations also prohibit the direct or indirect provision of the following, to or for the benefit of the Tatmadaw (or to any person acting on its behalf or under its direction) where such provision relates to the military activities of the recipient in Myanmar or otherwise enables or facilitates the conduct of armed hostilities in Myanmar:

- a) technical assistance
- b) armed personnel
- c) financial services or funds, or
- d) brokering services in relation to an arrangement whose object or effect is to provide, in a non-UK country anything mentioned in paragraphs (a) - (c)

For general guidance on export controls and trade sanctions, visit the Export Control Joint Unit website (the Isle of Man imposes the same export and trade controls as the UK).

1.4 Immigration Sanctions

The effect of the Regulations is to impose a travel ban on persons who are designated by the UK Secretary of State. Such persons are excluded persons for the purposes of section 8B of the Immigration Act 1971 (as that Act has effect in the Isle of Man).

This means that those individuals will be refused leave to enter or remain in the UK/IOM. Any applications they make for a visa to travel to the UK/IOM, including for transit purposes, will be refused. A foreign national who is subject to a travel ban under the Regulations, and is currently in the UK/IOM, will have their permission to stay in the UK/IOM cancelled and steps will be taken to remove them.

If you are the subject of an immigration sanction and try to travel to the UK/IOM, carriers are required to deny you boarding.

1.5 Information and Record Keeping

Part 7 of the Regulations places obligations on relevant firms (the definition of which is set out in the Regulations) to report information to the Treasury about known or suspected designated persons or about persons who may have committed an offence under specified provisions of the Regulations. The Treasury has designated the Financial Intelligence Unit (FIU) as the body to whom reports should be made, via THEMIS.

It also grants powers to the Treasury to request information from, amongst others, a designated person, including powers to request the production of documents. It also establishes offences for failing to comply with these requests (including providing false information in respect of licences).

Part 7 also establishes information powers and record-keeping responsibilities in relation to the trade sanctions contained in the Regulations. It provides for offences for failing to comply with any of those requirements or intentionally obstructing an official in the exercise of those powers.

If you have obligations or responsibilities under Part 7 of these Regulations, it is important that you familiarise yourself with them. If you are unclear of your obligations or responsibilities, you are advised to seek independent legal advice.

2. How will these sanctions measures be enforced?

The Regulations make it a criminal offence to contravene the trade and financial sanctions, as well as to enable or facilitate a contravention of, or to circumvent, any of the prohibitions in the Regulations. They also prescribe the mode of trial and penalties that apply to such offences. In some cases, offences related to contraventions of prohibitions in the Regulations are contained within other legislation, such as the Customs and Excise Management Act 1986 (CEMA).

In addition to the below, further details on offences and penalties can be found in the Annex

2.1 Financial Sanctions

Breaches of financial sanctions are a serious criminal offence. Any breach of the main financial prohibitions in the Regulations carries a maximum sentence of 7 years' imprisonment or a fine (or both).

Committing an offence under regulations 52 or 54 (information offences in connection with financial sanctions under the Regulations) carries a maximum sentence of 6 months' imprisonment or a fine (or both).

The Treasury is responsible for monitoring compliance with financial sanctions and investigating suspected breaches.

The Treasury works with other parts of government, supervisory bodies and regulators to consider all cases reported to it, sharing relevant information accordingly.

If you find out that a person or organisation you are dealing with is subject to the financial sanctions detailed in the Regulations, you must immediately:

- stop dealing with them
- freeze any assets you're holding for them
- inform the FIU as soon as possible.

More detailed information on the Treasury's approach to compliance and enforcement can be found in the Financial Sanctions Guidance.

2.2 Trade Sanctions

Any breach of the prohibitions relating to the trade sanctions contained in the Regulations is triable either way and carries a maximum sentence of 10 years' imprisonment or a fine (or both).

The Treasury is responsible for enforcing the trade prohibitions and investigating suspected offences.

If you discover that you have breached any of the trade prohibitions, you should report the irregularity to the FIU as soon as possible. You should provide:

- details of the export or transaction, including dates
- any relevant documents, such as export documentation and commercial invoices
- details of how the breach was discovered, why it occurred and what steps you have put in place to ensure it does not happen again.

3. Are there circumstances when I can get an authorisation or licence for a sanctioned activity?

Licensing and exception provisions are contained in Part 6 of the Regulations.

3.1 Exceptions

The Regulations set out the exceptions to some of the sanctions prohibitions which apply within certain defined circumstances. An exception applies automatically, and does not require you to obtain a licence issued in accordance with the Regulations.

The Regulations establish exceptions relating to financial sanctions including for the crediting of a frozen account, providing that any such interest or other earnings are frozen in accordance with the relevant legislation underpinning the asset freeze. An exception also exists for when funds are transferred to a relevant institution for crediting to an account held or controlled by a designated person in discharge (or partial discharge) of an obligation which arose before the recipient became a designated person.

Regulation 44 establishes an exception to regulations 11 to 15 which provides that prohibitions are not contravened if conduct is authorised by a licence which is issued under the law of the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands, or any British Overseas Territory for the purpose of disappling a prohibition in that jurisdiction which corresponds to the relevant prohibition.

The Regulations also include an exception in relation to any prohibition or requirement imposed by these Regulations for acts done for the purposes of national security or prevention of serious crime.

These exceptions do not apply to all prohibitions. If you are unsure whether an exception applies in your circumstances, you are advised to seek independent legal advice.

3.2. Licensing for financial sanctions

Where a person has been designated for the purposes of financial sanctions and had their assets frozen, the designated person or a representative may apply for a licence from the Treasury in order to be able to utilise their funds or economic resources (non-monetary assets, such as property or vehicles). Schedule 4 to the Regulations sets out the purposes pursuant to which, or for which activities, the Treasury may grant an individual licence. In summary these are:

- basic needs
- reasonable legal fees or reasonable expenses associated with the provision of legal services
- reasonable fees for the routine holding or maintenance of frozen funds and economic resources
- extraordinary expenses
- pre-existing judicial decisions etc.
- diplomatic missions etc.
- extraordinary situation
- prior obligations
- humanitarian assistance activities etc.

Further information can be found in the Financial Sanctions Guidance

3.3 Licensing for trade sanctions

Licenses may also be issued for certain trade activities that would otherwise be prohibited by the Regulations.

The Treasury is responsible for administering the licensing provisions for all trade sanctions. In exercising these powers, the Treasury seeks and considers advice from other Isle of Man and United Kingdom government departments.

In making decisions on whether to grant a licence to permit something which would otherwise be prohibited under Part 5 of the Regulations, the Treasury will consider each application on a case-by-case basis to determine whether granting a licence would be consistent with the stated purposes of the sanctions regime and any UN or other relevant international law obligations.

For some prohibitions there are specific activities which the UK's Department for International Trade considers are likely to be consistent with the aims of the sanctions. These can be found here (section 3.3). If you think that your proposed activity falls within one of these specific descriptions you should make this clear and explain why you believe this to be the case in your application for a licence.

You should not assume that a licence will be granted or engage in any activities prohibited by the trade sanctions until your licence has been granted.

When you export goods, you may need to submit an electronic export declaration via the National Export System (NES), part of the Customs Handling of Import and Export Freight (CHIEF) system.

Guidance is available on how to make an export declaration can be found here

3.4 Overlap with strategic export licensing

Military goods and military technology

Please note that the export of and trade in military goods and military technology are also controlled under the Export Control Order 2008 and so you may also need a licence which is valid under that legislation. This means that all licence applications relating to military goods and military technology will also need to be considered against the strategic export licensing criteria. A licence under the Regulations is unlikely to be granted if a licence is refused for the same activity under the Export Control Order 2008.

The way this will work in practice is that we will consider an application for a licence which relates to activities that are licensable under both the Regulations and the Export Control Order 2008 as an application for a licence under both pieces of legislation. This means that only a single licence application is required.

The application will be considered against the relevant licensing criteria. If a licence is granted it will be valid under both the Export Control Order 2008 and the Regulations.

Dual-use goods and technology

Please note that the export of and trade in dual-use goods and technology are also controlled under the Dual-Use Regulation. Authorisations under that Regulation are granted by the Secretary of State for International Trade under licensing powers in the Export Control Order 2008.

This means that all licence applications relating to items which are controlled dual-use goods and technology will also need to be considered against the strategic export licensing criteria. A licence under the Regulations is unlikely to be granted if an authorisation is refused for the same activity under the Dual-Use Regulation.

As explained above in relation to military goods and technology, only a single licence application will be required in relation to dual-use goods and technology which falls within the scope of both the Regulations and the Dual-Use Regulation. If the application is compatible with both criteria, a licence will be granted which will be valid under the Dual-Use Regulation and the Export Control Order 2008 as well as the Regulations.

Overlap between trade sanctions and financial sanctions

If you import or export goods, you need to consider if financial sanctions apply to you. You may need a licence from the Treasury as well as from UK's Export Control Joint Unit.

Transit control

Certain goods transiting the UK are still regarded as being exported when they leave the country and are therefore subject to control. Article 17 of the Export Control Order 2008 includes a transit and transshipment exception meaning that in many situations a licence is not required. This exception does not apply to goods destined for Myanmar, meaning that a licence is required to transit goods through the UK or to transship them in the UK with a view to re-exportation to Myanmar.

3.5 Directions in respect of immigration sanctions

If you are subject to immigration sanctions the Home Office may direct, on a case by case basis, that the sanction does not apply in particular circumstances, such as for travel to, or through, the UK/IOM for a UN sponsored meeting.
