Part 2 - Descriptors of Performance against Standards

Inspection reports will describe how a service has performed in each of the standards inspected. Compliance statements by inspectors will follow the framework as set out below.

Compliant

Arrangements for compliance were demonstrated during the inspection. There are appropriate systems in place for regular monitoring, review and any necessary revisions to be undertaken. In most situations this will result in an area of good practice being identified and comment being made.

Substantially compliant

Arrangements for compliance were demonstrated during the inspection yet some criteria were not yet in place. In most situations this will result in a requirement being made.

Partially compliant

Compliance could not be demonstrated by the date of the inspection. Appropriate systems for regular monitoring, review and revision were not yet in place. However, the service could demonstrate acknowledgement of this and a convincing plan for full compliance. In most situations this will result in requirements being made.

Non-compliant

Compliance could not be demonstrated by the date of the inspection. This will result in a requirement being made.

Not assessed

Assessment could not be carried out during the inspection due to certain factors not being available.

Recommendations based on best practice, relevant research or recognised sources may be made by the inspector. They promote current good practice and when adopted by the registered person will serve to enhance quality and service delivery.

Part 3 - Inspection information

The Inspection report is based on the information provided as part of the pre inspection desk top analysis and the findings of the inspection visit.

The purpose of this inspection is to check the service against the service specific minimum standards – Section 37 of The Regulation of Care Act 2013 and The Regulation of Care (Care Services) Regulations 2013 part 3, regulation 9.

Inspections concentrate on specific areas on a rotational basis and for most services are unannounced.

Part 4 - Inspection Outcomes, Evidence and Requirements

Regulation of Care Act 2013, Part 2 (37) and Care Services Regulations Part 3 (9) Standard 2- Organisation

2.1 - The maximum number of children between 0 years and 7 years the childminder may look after, when working alone, is six; this is dependent upon the required space standards being met. In addition a childminder must have regard to the numbers allowed within the following age bands:

- no more than 2 children under the age of 1 year;
- no more than 3 children, in total, under the age of 5 years.

The numbers within the age bands above can be exceeded to take account of exceptional circumstances; such as to provide for siblings, or other continuity of care issues that are considered to be in the best interests of the child. Each circumstance will be considered on its individual merit and the ability of the childminder to provide evidence to support their request. The maximum number of six children cannot be exceeded at any time.

NB: These ratios may be decreased as well as increased if a childminder's circumstances warrant such a change.

Childminders cannot exceed six children aged 0-16 on the premises at any one time. This includes minded children, childminder's own children and any other children who may visit the home.

Our Decision:

Compliant

Reasons for our decision:

On the day of the inspection there were three minded children present. According to the information provided she was minding within the restrictions of her registration.

Regulation of Care Act 2013 Part 2 (37) and Care Services Regulations Part 3 (9) Standard 3 – Care, Learning and Play

3.2 - The childminder must select resources and provide activities, play opportunities and first-hand experiences which allow children to build on their natural curiosity as learners, develop their language and mathematical thinking, use their imagination and develop social relationships.

Our Decision:

Compliant

Reasons for our decision:

The childminder was providing activities and play opportunities that encourage the children to build on their natural curiosity, develop language and physical skills, promote their aesthetic awareness, use their imagination, promote early mathematical understanding, and develop social skills.

During the inspection, the childminder sat on the floor with the children. All three children were playing a 'matching sounds and pictures' game. The children took turns to press a button and listen to the sound, they would then identify the sound and match it with a picture, for example the sound a cow makes and the picture of a cow. The childminder provided guidance and reminded the children to look at their cards and match the pictures. Once the game was finished the children could choose other toys to play with.

The childminder was aware of the needs of each of the children and interacted with them all equally.

The inspector left details of how to contact the Inspector with the childminder. This was to be given to parents of minded children so they could provide feedback, if they wanted directly to the inspector regarding the care provided for their child.

The following are some comments received:

Jenni offers a home from home for my little girl. They go out in all weathers, puddle jumping or playing in the park or exploring the beaches or glens. She also finds time to fit in crafts and all manner of other play activities.

My little girl has always been very clingy to me and is socially anxious. Jenni was very patient at letting * settle in and has encouraged her to join in with other children to play.

She actively meets up with another child minder weekly so that * meets other children, but is not overwhelmed by too many unknown children.

* has gained so much confidence being with Jenni. She tries so much more new stuff when with Jenni - things she wouldn't do with us - like eating different foods or trying new things.

Jenni provides a large range of outdoor and indoor activities for him to do each day, many park visits, walks etc which he really enjoys alongside different themed indoor activities. Jenni fills us in when we pick up our son what he has done for the day, including naps etc and if we ever need to ask anything she will happily message us later.

The inspector would like to thank the childminder and service users for their co-operation with this inspection.

If you would like to discuss any of the issues mentioned in this report or have identified any inaccuracies, please do not hesitate to contact the Registration and Inspection Team.
