Staff recommendations

We don't stock these titles, but our staff have enjoyed reading them. You may be able to find them at your local public library.

Stacey: It's 1887, the Ancestral trees are dying, the workers are rioting, and one battle-scarred, disabled werewolf has a new posting to take. The fact it's on an island run by vampires probably won't have any serious consequences for the path his life takes...

This book parodies a specific breed of supernatural romance, yet the politics are interesting and the characters are flawed in the very best way. It's a wonderful monument to so many fantastic tropes. Fun, fluffy fantasy about love - what it is, and is not.

Please note: Two versions available, flirting with fangs contains sexual scenes and fluff and fangs does not, choose your version according to your taste and comfort levels.

Mand — A captivating new series from Mark Billingham, the very best in the business' --- RICHARD OSMAN

Meet Detective Miller: unique, unconventional, and criminally underestimated...

He's a detective, a dancer, he has no respect for authority - and he's the best hope Blackpool has for keeping criminals off the streets. Meet Detective Declan Miller.

A double murder in a seaside hotel sees a grieving Miller return to work to solve what appears to be a case of mistaken identity. Just why were two completely unconnected men taken out?

Despite a somewhat dubious relationship with both reality and his new partner, can the eccentric, offbeat Miller find answers where his colleagues have found only an impossible puzzle?

Alan — Under the Banner of Heaven is a true crime nonfiction book by Jon Krakauer that was adapted into a 2022 FX on Hulu TV miniseries by the same name (created by Dustin Lance Black, starring Andrew Garfield). Krakauer is a master story teller, and he skilfully weaves a double murder of a woman and a baby, messianic delusions, the incisive psychological profiles of the two cold-blooded perpetrators, the history of Mormon fundamentalism, and an in-depth look into an outlying community of polygamous sect into a gripping tragedy. It's an eye-opening, thought-provoking story about a people on the fringe, set in the Wild West that is twentieth-century rural America.

Tea Loaf

Ingredients:

- 170g sultanas
- 170g raisins
- 1 orange, zested
- 300ml hot strong Earl Grey or Lady Grey tea
- 2 medium eggs, lightly beaten
- 250g self-raising flour
- 200g light soft brown sugar
- butter, for greasing, plus extra to serve

Instructions:

STEP 1

- Mix the sultanas, raisins and orange zest in a large mixing bowl. Pour over the tea and cover the bowl. Leave to sit for a minimum of 6 hours or ideally overnight to allow the dried fruit to soak up all the liquid.

STEP 2

- Heat the oven to 180C/160 fan/gas 4. Grease and line a 900g loaf tin. Add the eggs, flour and sugar to the soaked fruit, ensuring everything is well combined. Spoon the mixture into the tin and place in the centre of the oven for 1 hour 30 mins or until firm to the touch. Leave to cool in the tin for 15 mins before transferring to a wire rack.

STEP 3

- Cut into thick slices and serve with butter. To store, wrap tightly and keep in an airtight container for up to five days. The loaf will taste even better after a few days.
