HERITAGE ECONOMIC IMPACT ASSESSMENT

The Isle of Man Government invites expressions of interest from economic analysts to provide a heritage economic impact assessment of economic benefits of heritage assets, services and activities which are the responsibility of Manx National Heritage (MNH).

MNH is seeking to better understand the economic impact of its services on the Island and how that can be grown to support the Island Plan to grow visitor numbers, better understand the drivers for our customers and how to develop/ change its offer to increase direct net income and indirect economic value to the Isle of Man.

MNH wish to commission research by a consultant or consortium quantifying the economic benefits of heritage plus review potential options for the wider collection of data to better understand customers. This is to provide evidence in support of services and to provide meaningful and up to date information on how those services may be developed over time.
